The Organization of Women Architects (OWA), pursuant to the New Continuing Education Requirement on Disabled Access required by Senate Bill (SB) 1608 (Chapter 549, Statutes of 2008), is offering a training course for Architects and architectural staff on disabled access requirements. The course provider will supply attendance documentation required by the California Architects Board as a condition of license renewal.

Course Provider:

Gilda Puente-Peters, Principal of Gilda Puente-Peters, Architects (GPPA), Universal Design Specialists, is a CASp certified architect with over 20 years of experience in the access compliance field. Gilda has developed an extensive curriculum and has provided accessibility trainings throughout the State of California and Internationally.

Curriculum:

The curriculum covered in this training will include information and practical guidance concerning:

- The State access requirements of the California Building Code, Title 24, Part 2, that govern access to public facilities,
- The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and updates,
- Federal and State regulations adopted pursuant to those laws.

The training will also cover the important 2007 CBC access code changes.

Who should attend?

- Architects who need to comply with the new access continuing education requirements for license renewal.
- Any design professional who wants to improve their knowledge of disabled accessibility design and become current with recent access code changes.
